JPP&M

Volume 9, 1990

Journal of Public Policy & Marketing

Alcohol, Cigarette and Drug Advertising Issues

Believability and Attitudes Toward Alcohol Warning Label Information: The Role of Persuasive Communications Theory 1
J. Craig Andrews, Richard G. Netemeyer and Srinivas Durvasula

The Impact of Product Usage Warnings in Alcoholic Beverage Advertising 16
Sandra J. Ducoffe

What Can We Learn from the Informational Content of Cigarette Advertising? A Reply and Further Analysis 30
Debra Jones Ringold and John E. Calfee

Advertising Prescription Drugs to the Public: Headache or Relief? 42
Mary Jane Sheffet and Steven W. Kopp

Advertising Regulation Issues

Infomercials and Television Station Clearance Practices 62
Patrick R. Parsons and Herbert J. Rotfeld

A "New and Improved" View of Puffery 73
Jef I. Richards

An Assessment of Assumptions Underlying the Reasonable Consumer Element in Deceptive Advertising Policy 85
Russell N. Laczniak and Sanford Grossbart

Assimilation and Contrast Effects in Product Performance Perceptions: Implications for Public Policy 100
Paula Fitzgerald Bone, Terence A. Shimp and Subhash Sharma

General Public Policy Issues

The Economics of Information: An Empirical Approach to Nelson's Search-Experience Framework 111
Darlene Brannigan Smith

Predatory Practices in Competitive Interaction: Legal Limits and Antitrust Considerations 129
Gregory T. Gundlach

Marketing and the Religious Right: An Application of the Parallel Political Martketplace Conceptualization 154
James Lynch

The Technology Innovation Act of 1980, Ancillary Legislation, Public Policy, and Marketing: The Interfaces 167
Thomas J. Steele, W. Lee Schwendig and George A. Johnson

Gray Markets: A Legal Review and Public Policy Perspective 183
James Cross, James Stephens and Robert E. Benjamin

A Framework for Effective Export Marketing: The Jamaican Partnership of Public Policy and Private Enterprise 195
J. A. F. Nicholls, Marlene Lyn-Cook and Sydney Roslow

How Public Policy Can Define the Marketplace: The Case of Pollution Liability Insurance in the 1980's 211
Patrick L. Brockett, Linda L. Golden and Paul R. Aird

AN ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE AMERICAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION